A Notable Housewife.

The following quaint lines are supposed to have been written in the time of Henry VIII, of England. The invaluable lady to whom they referred belonged to a breed long since

Twelve sortes of mete my wife provides, And bates me not a dyshe; Four are of deshe, of frute are four, The other four of fysshe.

For the fyrste corse shee stores my borde
Wythe birds that daintles are;
And first a quayle and next a rayle,
A bytter and a jar. e.

Mine appetite, when cloyede with the e, Wythe fysshe the makes yt sharpe, And brynges me next a lumpe, a poute,* A gugeon and a carpe.

The second corse of frute well serv'd. Fittynge well the seson,

A mediar and a hartichoke,

A crab and a small reson.

What's he, that having soche a wife, Upon her sholde not dote; Who ev'ry day provides him fare That costs him not a grote?

*A whiting.

As to the last line, it would have been interesting to have a little information as to the settlement of the weekly bills.

CHARLESTON, S. C.

SPRING TRADE OF 1873.

THE SUBSCRIBERS, WHO ARE AMONG THE MOST PROMINENT JOBBERS AND WHOLESALE DEALERS IN THE CITY OF CHARLESTON, S. C., beg to call the attention of the merchants of the interior of this and the adjoining States to this market, as being one of the most desirable in which to procure full supplies of all articles they may require.

The advantages of a near market in affording fact lites for frequent renewal of Stocks, and in saving interest on investments, cannot be over-estimated.

The wants of the country having rapidly idoreased, with amp'e facilities to enable us to procure our supplies direct from first hands in Europe and this country, we are now prepared to exhibit more varied and complete stocks of SEASONABLE GOODS than at any period since the war, and will dispose of them on as good terms as any other market.
